TERRAZYME®

90 Vegetarian Capsules

Support a healthy digestive system with dōTERRA TerraZyme®

Our bodies need certain enzymes to properly digest the food we eat. Processed foods or those high in preservatives are often enzyme deficient and even cooking food can sometimes destroy the enzymes we need for good health. dōTERRA TerraZyme® capsules contain a blend of seven enzymes as well as herbal ingredients that can help with the digestion of carbohydrates, protein, lactose and fatty acids.

PRIMARY BENEFITS

Eating a variety of fresh, raw foods can assist in getting the enzymes you need. But dōTERRA TerraZyme® can help support a healthy digestive system by delivering a powerful blend of those digestive enzymes naturally found in raw foods.

- Amylase aids the digestion of glucose, sugar and carbohydrates
- Amylase, Protease and Lipase all help support and maintain a healthy digestive system
- Protease assists the digestion of protein
- Tilactase aids the digestion of lactose
- Lipase helps the digestion of fats, fatty acids, triglycerides and lipids
- Cellulase supports general health and wellbeing

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Our body needs certain enzymes to properly digest the food we eat. But maintaining a diet that is naturally high in the appropriate enzymes can be difficult. Processed foods or those high in preservatives are often enzyme deficient and even cooking food can sometimes destroy the enzymes we need for good health.

Eating a variety of fresh, raw foods is the best way to get the enzymes you need. But TerraZyme® can help support a healthy digestive system by delivering a powerful blend of those digestive enzymes naturally found in raw foods. TerraZyme® capsules contain a blend of seven enzymes as well as herbal ingredients that can help with the digestion of carbohydrates, protein, lactose and fatty acids.

When life is too busy to prepare the raw foods you need for good health, you can rely on TerraZyme® to support a healthy digestive system.
