Supplementing essential practices of good sleep and cleanliness with aromatherapy can amplify what you are already doing to keep seasonal threats at bay.

SLEEP

The power of sleep is often underestimated. During a good night's rest, your body's cells regenerate and renew! In addition to keeping you well, spending enough time in your REM cycle can also help you to feel present and less fatigued during the day. FALL BUCKET LIST

WHAT WILL YOU DO THIS YEAR?

The time for falling leaves and apple cider has finally come. Cozy sweaters and mugs of steaming hot cocoa feel like home, and pumpkin patches seem like the perfect place to spend a day. Whether you're a fan of carving pumpkins or creating your own Halloween costume, there is something for everyone to love about fall. Bundle up in your favorite sweater and head outside to enjoy this colorful time of year.

1. LEARN TO COOK A NEW HEARTY SOUP

As the temperature drops, eating something warm becomes more appealing and inviting. There is no shortage of great soup recipes out there, prepared either in your slow cooker or on the stove. Try using in-season vegetables for the best flavor and nutrients. Adding essential oils to your recipe will provide a boost of flavor, and you will enjoy the benefits of the oil. As herbs are out of season, try using Oregano, Cilantro, and Black Pepper oils instead of the herb. You might be surprised at how much flavor one drop of oil can add!

2. GO FOR A HIKE

Mother Nature is at her best during fall. The bright and vivid colors of the season make it the perfect time to head for the mountains. Find a trail with lots of trees so that you can enjoy the changing colors up close. If you live in an area without mountains, take a long walk down a path lined with trees. Make sure to keep a bottle of Deep Blue® or Deep Blue® Rub in your hiking bag to give your legs an invigorating massage before or after tackling any steep hills! If hiking is not up your alley, try a nice scenic drive through a canyon, or a relaxing bike ride through the park.

3. ATTEND A HARVEST FESTIVAL

Apple picking, corn mazes, and hay bale rides are all activities usually found at a community harvest festival. Check out your local community's website or Facebook page to find events near you. Not only will these events be fun for your entire family, but they benefit your community as well!

4. SPEND A DAY BAKING

This is the time of year when you can never decide if it is time to turn on the heater or not. Why not heat your house using your oven for a change? Baking is one of the best ways to warm your home, making it smell like all of your favorite home-baked goods. Whether your specialty is a homemade pie or pumpkin chocolate chip cookies, use this time of year to hone your skills. Adding essential oils such as On Guard®, Peppermint, or Cassia to your favorite recipe is a great way to add an fun kick of flavor, perfect for the season!

5. DECORATE FOR FALL OR HALLOWEEN

Changing the décor around your home is the perfect way to invite fall into your house. Whether you choose to decorate for the season or the holiday, your home will feel festive and welcoming. Try making your own diffuser blend that fills your home with the cozy scents of fall. Also, see what upcycles you can create with your essential oil bottles to use as decorations. See page 16 for fun upcycle ideas.

6. VISIT A FARMERS MARKET

Shopping local takes on a fresh new meaning in the fall. We all know the tastiest produce comes from the fall harvest. Fall is an excellent time for corn, apples, and pumpkin, but did you know many other vegetables are ripe in the fall?

- Broccoli and kale are sweeter and less bitter and sharp when harvested in cooler temperatures.
- Chilies and peppers strut their best flavors when harvested at the beginning of fall.
- Pears and apples are great sweet additions to any fall meal.

7. MAKE A FIRE

If you are looking for a foolproof way to enjoy this season, you can find it with a nice fire in your backyard or fireplace, roasting s'mores with family and friends. Try adding your own twist on this holiday classic. Another favorite is to make your favorite chocolate chip cookies, sans the chocolate chips, and use them as the base of the s'mores. Start your fire just before sunset and enjoy the vibrant hue as the sun goes down.

THE POWER OF Orange

The tasty array of orange-colored fruits and vegetables contain an abundance of antioxidants, vitamins, fiber, and phytonutrients that are good for your skin, eyes, and heart.

Beta-carotene: The best-known nutrient in orange foods is beta-carotene, a powerful antioxidant that gives sunny fruits and vegetables their brilliant color. Experts say beta-carotene is not only good for eye health, it can also delay cognitive aging and protect skin from sun damage.

Vitamin A: Beta-carotene is a precursor for vitamin A, which is commonly referred to as retinal, retinol, and retonoic acid. Vitamin A is important for night vision, as an antioxidant that can neutralize the damaging free radicals in the body, and as a crucial part of the health of your immune system.

Vitamin C: Orange foods are full of vitamin C, an antioxidant that boosts the immune system, supports cardiovascular health, and helps rebuild collagen in the skin.

WHAT ARE YOUR PASSIONS?

I like to draw! It allows me to put my brain to rest and release my creativity. As for sports activities, anything I can do outside is good: cycling, running, or hiking. I also like reading...I buy more books than I can read.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE QUOTE?

"One day or day one. You decide."

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE ESSENTIAL OIL?

My favorite oil is Vetiver!

WHY DID YOU CHOOSE dōTERRA?

What I like about dōTERRA products is their versatility. When we discover essential oils for the first time, we can have fun making everyday products (such as soap, shaving cream, and cleaners) and realize that we have a real connection with what the Earth has to offer us. Another major reason I decided to join dōTERRA was for the company's values. Every action dōTERRA takes is designed to improve the quality of life of its partners – both Wellness Advocates and farmers!

WHAT ADVICE DO YOU HAVE FOR SOMEONE JUST GETTING TO KNOW OUR PRODUCTS?

The body is a great machine. It is complex, but it knows what it needs. Have an open mind when it comes to the benefits of essential oils. Trust the process! First and foremost, believe that the products can change and improve something in your life. Essential oils are there to accompany and support you in your journey!

WHAT IS YOUR DAILY ESSENTIAL OIL ROUTINE?

MORNING: First, I take a big glass of water with 2 drops of a citrus essential oil such as Lemon, Lime, or Grapefruit (depending on what I have on hand). Then I start my day with a meditation and use the dōTERRA Affirm™ or Frankincense according to my mood. I continue with 30 minutes of physical activity and diffuse something energizing—it is often Citrus Bliss®! After exercising, I add a few drops of Eucalyptus to my shower to give it a spa-like effect. I shave with a mixture of Fractionated Coconut Oil, Geranium, and Salon Essentials® Protecting Shampoo. It is extraordinary! Then, I use the Amāvi™ Aftershave Lotion and the Verāge® Skin Care Collection. To finish, I take dōTERRA Lifelong Vitality™ supplements.

DAYTIME: Throughout my day, Balance® often accompanies me. It allows me to give attention to my priorities and feel focused.

EVENING: At the end of the day, it is time to exercise again. An hour before going to the gym, I take the Deep Blue Polyphenol Complex®. It helps a lot during my workout and I see a clear difference the following day. I diffuse something to create a calming atmosphere in the evening. I often opt for Siberian Fir, but I recently discovered that Copaiba is also wonderful in the evening! At bedtime, my non-negotiable essential oil is Vetiver. I have not found a more relaxing aroma to help me prepare for a restful night's sleep!

TOGETHER

THE IMMEASURABLE VALUE OF PARTNERSHIP IN NEPAL

In the Spring of 2019, dōTERRA Canada Wellness Advocates visited the beautiful country of Nepal to participate in Co-Impact Sourcing® and dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation™ initiatives. In addition to experiencing Wintergreen distillation and a Days for Girls training, Wellness Advocates constructed a water pipeline that will provide over five-hundred families with precious access to water. Through these experiences, both Wellness Advocates and the Nepalese people were bonded together in gratitude and friendship.

VALUE OF A BOTTLE

Amidst the serene stillness of the Nepalese forest, harvesters snap branches of wintergreen leaves from the trees. Dressed in colorful clothes with large grass baskets on their backs, these harvesters, exclusively women, passionately and gently harvest this waxy, fragrant foliage. Baskets bursting, the women proceed to carry their 70 – 90 pound load back to a local distillery on the lush, stepped hillside. At the distillery, a small, crackling wood fire sits below a large metal vault, known as a still. Inside, hundreds of pounds of the harvester's wintergreen leaves are tightly packed and blanketed in thick steam. Potent chemical constituents from the wintergreen rise with the steam through small funnels until slowly trickling into a small glass container. Here, the wintergreen's pure essential oil boasts its brilliant naturally red hue.

Watching as the distillers and harvesters carefully completed this process, trip attendees stood in awe. "After witnessing this incredible distillation process, the beautiful wintergreen oil was poured into small bottles and given to each of us to take home," explained Roxanne Harris, a dōTERRA Canada Wellness Advocate. "When it was given to me, it felt like I had been given a rare and precious gift of immeasurable value."

VIBRANT RELATIONSHIPS

The value of a single bottle of Wintergreen essential oil is difficult to quantify. The time-intensive work of the harvesters, the attentive labor of the distillers, and Wintergreen's abundant benefits make it truly special. After Co-Impact Sourcing in Katmandu valley for several years, dōTERRA's partnership with Nepal has grown beyond distilling.

The relationship between dōTERRA and Nepal is as vibrant as the Wintergreen oil itself. "There is genuine care for each person in the sourcing, growing, harvesting, and distilling process," said Roxanne Harris. "The bond created by Co-Impact Sourcing has allowed everyone involved to create a greater product, have greater joy, feel increased happiness and pride in their work, and live in a safer, healthier community." This bond is built upon a pillar of trust and dedication within sourcing communities, fortified by sustainable jobs, fair wages, and partnerships. The program seeks to amplify native resources and empower local people.

"Every country is endowed with unique natural resources," said Bishnu Adhikari, Director of Co-Impact Sourcing and Strategic Sourcing. "The beautiful thing about dōTERRA and its Co-Impact Sourcing model is that it helps identify a country's resources and, arm-in-arm with the country's native people, creates a business solution to poverty through using these resources to create pure and naturally sourced essential oils. This is done in Nepal and in different countries around the globe. There is nothing else like it."

This model truly makes Co-Impact Sourcing mutually beneficial – changing both the lives of those who source and those who use essential oil. "The practice is unifying and gratifying for everyone involved," shared Bekah Nixon, dōTERRA Canada General Manager. "A cornerstone of Co-Impact Sourcing is the desire to assist others in obtaining financial independence for expanded opportunities."

Co-Impact Sourcing seeks to promote self-reliance in individuals, families, and communities by empowering growth. "Co-Impact Sourcing empowers growth by lifting people to a level of self-respect, self-worth, and value that far exceeds what society has historically placed upon them," Roxanne Harris explains. "It is a relationship of genuine love, trust, and commitment in the most genuine way possible. It lifts, educates, empowers, and inspires communities to become all they were made to be and more through gifts of tools, resources, partnerships, and financial stability."

Through these gifts, people can lift themselves from poverty with their individual brilliance and unique talents. "Seeing Co-Impact Sourcing in action changes your view of the world," shares Lance Fryling, a dōTERRA Canada Wellness Advocate. "It not only affects the people in your community, but across the world. It makes us all a more global citizen." With empowering individuals and improving quality of life at the center of Co-Impact Sourcing, the dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation™ seeks to expand upon these efforts. From constructing a medical clinic in Makawanpur or providing temporary housing after Nepal's devastating earthquake to conducting Days for Girls trainings in local villages, the dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation supports the objectives of Co-Impact Sourcing in vital ways.

NEW OPPORTUNITIES

While in Nepal, dōTERRA Canada Wellness Advocates were able to participate in a Days for Girls training. During each program, trained Days for Girls leaders educate young girls about basic feminine hygiene and give each attendee a re-usable hygiene kit. “Throughout the training, the girls had so many questions about how we care for ourselves and our babies,” shares Roxanne Harris of her experience. “Many of the girls were shy, surprised, and overwhelmed at the material being taught to them and were so happy to receive their own hygiene kit. The need for this program is huge.”

“This is a new stage of life for these girls, one where they can have greater confidence in who they are,” said Bekah Nixon. “The work we do through Co-Impact Sourcing® and dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation™ is huge in its impact, yet so small in its control. These women are incredible, intelligent, capable, and strong. Our effort is simply to provide resources that allow them to grow into the women they are meant to become.” Women are a huge focus of Co-Impact Sourcing and dōTERRA Healing Hands

Foundation efforts in Nepal and their lives are abounding with new opportunities through these wonderful programs.

The beautiful women involved in harvesting Wintergreen are one such example of Co-Impact Sourcing’s ability to provide change and opportunity. The labor-intensive process of gathering wintergreen leaves and carrying them to the distillery is reserved primarily for women in this lush Nepalese community. Until dōTERRA began its Co-Impact Sourcing initiative in Nepal, women had very little financial opportunity near their homes and, if employed at all, would be required to travel to outlying villages for work. Women with employed husbands found difficulty in acquiring work, particularly if they had children. By harvesting wintergreen, women are able to stay close to home and work hours that allow them to be home for their children. With this additional income, their children are able to attend school and ultimately strengthen themselves, their families, and communities with greater opportunity. The women in these communities carry more than just wintergreen on their backs – they carry their families and future generations.

ESSENTIAL RESOURCES

Walking over an hour each way to the nearby river, women and girls spend significant time every day collecting water for their families. During the Co-Impact Sourcing trip, Canada leaders jumped in to help dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation™ construct a water pipeline for Makawanur in the Thaha Municipality of Nepal to alleviate this pressing need. Wheelbarrows and shovels in hand, dust flew as Wellness Advocates and village locals worked together to dig and cement the pipeline. Lining the newly dug trench with smiles, dirt, laughter, and sweat, Wellness Advocates and locals passed plates of cement down an assembly line. Mixed by hand, this concrete will frame the pipeline for generations to come – ultimately blessing thousands of lives beyond those it will presently serve. The joy and gratitude along the pipeline was tangible as the group worked and smiled together. “It was so gratifying to work with the locals,” shared Lance Fryling. “With limited communication, we aided each other in our small tasks such as digging the trench and mixing and pouring the cement. It was awesome to see how we all worked together.” The unifying act of working together truly strengthened the relationships of Wellness Advocates in Canada and bonded them with a spirit of joyful service to the Nepalese people.

In addition to providing water accessibility for everyone in these remote villages, the amount of time freedom this provides to youth and mothers is significant. Time that would have been spent gathering water – two hours per day, fourteen hours per week, and just over four weeks per year – can now be used on education, work, hobbies, time with family, and more. “The importance of this water pipeline is undeniably life altering for the five hundred families that it will service,” expressed Roxanne Harris. “Brimming with gratitude, elderly women tearfully expressed their thanks for our help with the pipeline. Everyone was so thankful for our contribution.”

Much like this pipeline carries water to the villages surrounding the precious Wintergreen source, dōTERRA hopes to similarly act as a pipeline of essential resources to these communities. “Working together on the water pipeline was a beautiful illustration of the partnership we are creating with Nepal,” said Bekah Nixon, “but you didn’t have to attend the trip to contribute to this amazing impact. You partner with Nepal every time you use Wintergreen and every time you share it with others. Our wonderful Wintergreen harvesters and distillers are changing your life with every bottle, and you are changing theirs.”

BONDED TOGETHER

Both Co-Impact Sourcing and dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation have generated resources for the Nepalese people that will sustainably benefit them for generations to come. Women, and entire communities, are flourishing in both business and life with increased opportunity and self-sustainability through aid-projects, sustainable jobs, and fair wages. Unified in partnership with dōTERRA and Wellness Advocates, change is not only possible, but a reality. “We may not speak the same language, live the same culture, or have the same challenges,” shares Bekah Nixon, “but at the end of the day we are all people – people that are striving to change and strengthen our communities for generations to come. Whether sourcing or sharing essential oils, we can accomplish anything when we do it together.”

make your skin care ESSENTIAL

From cleansing to toning, essential oils can boost your skin care regimen and promote a beautiful glow. Whether you already have an established regimen or are just getting started, show your skin the love it deserves by incorporating naturally sourced products into your daily skin care routine!

CLEANSE

Who doesn't love feeling clean? In addition to making you feel great, cleansing your face both morning and night can prevent dirt build-up that might compromise the overall health of your skin. Search for cleansers that are free from chemicals such as sodium lauryl sulfate or BHA and instead opt for cleansers with gentle, moisturizing ingredients.

Boost Your Benefits: Add a drop of Cypress to your cleanser of choice to soothe dryness and increase your clean. Also consider using Tea Tree or Cedarwood for similar benefits!

TONE

If you want your skin to retain its moisture throughout the day, be sure to incorporate a toner into your routine! Not only does toner restore your skin's natural pH balance, but it also helps remove any excess oil, dirt, or leftover cleanser. No matter your skin type, try to avoid alcohol-based toners and instead use a toner with naturally based ingredients.

Boost Your Benefits: dōTERRA Touch® Rose promotes a healthy-looking, even skin tone while helping to balance moisture levels in the skin. Its delicate, floral scent is also elevating and enriching! Use dōTERRA Touch Rose, Juniper Berry, or any of the dōTERRA Touch® florals to supplement your toner of choice.

MOISTURIZE

Help your skin de-stress and regenerate by moisturizing regularly! Not only does moisturizing prevent dry skin, but it can also reduce the appearance of blemishes and wrinkles. When choosing a moisturizer, find one without parabens or fragrances and instead opt for a light-formula with SPF.

Boost Your Benefits: Yarrow|Pom is an amazing nutritive duo made up of incredible cosmetic constituents. Add a drop of Yarrow|Pom to your favorite moisturizer to help promote young, healthy looking skin and reduce the appearance of blemishes. Other essential oils you may consider using for similar benefits are Copaiba, Helichrysum, Clary Sage, and Patchouli.

AFTERSHAVE

Men, don't neglect adding aftershave to your skincare routine! Shaving can cause skin irritation. By replenishing moisture and adding a protective layer to combat redness, breakouts, and chafed skin, aftershave is an essential. When looking for the right aftershave for your skin type, avoid synthetic colorants or fragrances, both of which can aggravate the skin and are common allergens.

Boost Your Benefits: Add one drop each of Cedarwood and Tea Tree to the aftershave of your choice for its clarifying properties and relaxing aroma!

Yoga & Meditation

Whether you are in school, working, or raising a family, chances are that stress affects your daily life! Chronic stress can take a huge toll on both your body and mind, causing mental and physical fatigue, increased blood pressure or heart rate, and more. This means that regularly managing stressors in a healthy way is an essential part of living a wellness lifestyle. Combatting stress is a multifaceted approach, but consistently practicing yoga and meditation can provide you with the self-care you need to face each day's stressors with clarity, courage, and a sense of calm.

What is YOGA?

Yoga is a Sanskrit term meaning "union." The Hindu practice of yoga is intended to bring body and mind into unison through purposeful poses and stretches. These exercises aim to ground you mentally and physically, simultaneously allowing you to harness and control your breathing. Many yoga poses are simple and can be practiced with a yoga mat in the comfort of your home, but you may also consider attending a local yoga class with a few friends.

What is MEDITATION?

Meditation is the practice of bringing your mind to a restful awareness that encourages inherent mental clarity. By focusing on a particular object or meditative phrase (mantra), you practice training your mind toward grounded attention. In conjunction with yoga, meditation assists in bringing your body and mind into peaceful unison.

A Garden of Healing

The dōTERRA Healing Hands Foundation™ has partnered with Covenant House, an incredible organization based in Toronto, Canada that is expending efforts to support victims of sex trafficking. The Avdell Home, a branch of Covenant House, is specifically dedicated to this effort. In the spring of 2019, dōTERRA® Canada Wellness Advocates Megan Spoelstra, Dawn Calvinisti, and Dr. Marissa Heitzel joined Canada General Manager Bekah Nixon and Canada Director of Marketing Suzanne Viehweg to plant an aromatherapy garden at the Avdell Home.

Surrounded by tall lattice fences and gentle hanging flower baskets, the backyard of the Avdell Home is a beautiful oasis. The Avdell Home is an important branch of Covenant House Toronto dedicated specifically to providing housing and specialized services to women who have experienced sex trafficking. While Covenant House, established in 1982, offers numerous services to youth who are homeless or at risk, the Avdell Home is special to Covenant House's mission to combat human trafficking. With the same mission in mind, dōTERRA Healing Hands partnered with Covenant House to sponsor the Avdell Home's establishment in 2018.

The grand opening of the Avdell Home last fall was an exciting moment for both Covenant House and dōTERRA. Joined together with the same vision, this was an incredible step forward for both organizations in providing refuge and protection for victims leaving difficult situations. This year, Healing Hands is proud to join arms with Covenant House again to further support the Avdell Home.

Accompanied by a few Canadian Wellness Advocates, Canada General Manager Bekah Nixon and Canada Director of Marketing Suzanne Viehweg arrived at Covenant House in June to plant an aromatherapy garden for the residents of the Avdell Home.

"The Avdell Home is a place of hope and healing, and that is precisely what the aromatherapy garden represents," explains Bekah Nixon. "Planting the garden was a beautiful experience. To work alongside the residents of the home was impactful on all levels and emphasized the importance of Covenant House's work. It was an absolute privilege. The planting day was only a moment in time, but it will live in our hearts long into the future."

The group planted a total of 27 types of aromatic foliage, including Cypress, Helichrysum, Lavender, Vetiver, Roman Chamomile, Basil, Rosemary, and Thyme. "We know that by doing something as simple as planting a garden and mulching it, this beautiful backyard will help to bring people outside when they feel like things are challenging," said Dr. Marissa Heitzel. "They will be able to smell the flowers and pick some of the Lavender or the Thyme. That is a beautiful memory."

Some of these plants are sourced across the world to create dōTERRA essential oils, so customers everywhere can enjoy their aromatic benefits. Now, in the backyard of the Avdell Home, the residents will always have access to these calming, uplifting aromas. "Essential oils truly are the gift of the earth, and this experience has deepened my passion for essential oils with a rich, new meaning," expresses Dawn Calvinisti. "The earth is giving back to the women at the Avdell Home. I wish every member of my team could experience the priceless peace felt in the backyard as we planted the aromatherapy garden."

The aromatherapy garden was a tender opportunity for everyone involved. "I am humbled and grateful beyond words to have participated in this planting project," shares Megan Spoelstra. "Planting with the staff and residents of the Avdell Home was a precious experience. I am forever changed by my interaction with the residents and am grateful to have had a part in offering them this gift."

The backyard of the Avdell Home is available to the residents at all times and is protected by high security, serving as a serene refuge to these incredible women. The staff team at the Avdell Home similarly act as a sanctuary of trust for the residents, most of whom are just learning to have faith in others again. "Covenant House's commitment to these girls truly provides them with safety, security, and strength unlike anything I have experienced," expressed Suzanne Viehweg. "The Avdell Home is purely brimming with love."

The aromatherapy garden was simply an additional manifestation of this love. "We hope everyone who ever lives in the Avdell Home can feel buoyed up by the powerful aromas of these plants," Bekah Nixon shares. Describing the impact of the Covenant House, Bekah Nixon continues, "Having experienced the passion and vision of Covenant House, I am convinced now more than ever that the evil in this world stands no chance as long as we collectively stand up and fight for those who have lost their voice. This is a movement to liberate, empower, and strengthen the weary. I applaud Covenant House in the humblest of ways for the depth and breadth of the work they are doing, and am filled with gratitude for the opportunity we have to partner with such a tremendous organization."

The aromatherapy garden contributes to Covenant House's vision of helping women reclaim their power and ignite their potential to obtain a brilliant future in the wake of a traumatic past. Just as the roots of each plant, the residents of the Avdell Home are provided resources to root themselves in a new life. Combined with loving sunlight from Avdell Home staff, nourishment of basic needs, and lessons of self-love, these women will find healing. Much like the plants in the aromatherapy garden whose varying attributes contribute unique benefits to the world, the residents' unique life experiences and individuality will allow them to blossom into powerful influences for good. The Avdell Home is here to support these women in every moment as they root themselves in new soil and find grounded strength. dōTERRA Healing Hands is grateful to collaborate with this truly valiant cause.
