Green Mandarin

You may already be familiar with Red Mandarin oil from other limited time offers; Green Mandarin comes from the same mandarin tree, but is from the unripened fruit instead of the mature fruit. Its aroma is slightly sweet and floral with a tang of citrus. As with other citrus oils, it is uplifting when worn on the skin or diffused.

Pink Pepper

The molle, otherwise known as the pink peppercorn tree, was a sacred tree in ancient Incan culture. They used all parts of the tree, including the fruit, for many health purposes. The aroma of Pink Pepper is an invigorating and energising scent, and blends perfectly with citrus and floral oils. When you're feeling sleepy or need to focus, diffuse or inhale Pink Pepper to promote feelings of alertness.

Star Anise

Steam distilled from the eight-follicled fruit of the star anise tree, Star Anise oil is currently used in the dōTERRA ZenGest™ blend. A perfect oil for promoting overall digestive health in its own right, Star Anise is full of a fresh, licorice-like scent. Star Anise blends extremely well with floral and wood oils for an emotionally balancing experience.
