PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

dōTERRA's Manuka essential oil is harvested from New Zealand, where it has been used for centuries. You may recognise the word “manuka” because of Manuka honey, which comes from the hives of bees that pollinate the manuka tree's flowers. Manuka is part of the myrtle family of plants, the same family as tea tree and eucalyptus. Though it starts out a shrub, it can sometimes grow into a tree reaching around 15 metres. Now you can experience the many topical benefits of dōTERRA Manuka essential oil in a convenient dōTERRA Touch format.
