

Lemon Myrtle

A | T | D

SOURCED FROM:

FUN FACT

Lemon Myrtle's botanical name, Backhousia citriodora, was given in 1853 after the English botanist, James Backhouse.

Australia

WHAT IT TAKES TO MAKE A BOTTLE:

=

1-3% FROM FRESH LEAVES

CHEMISTRY:

The main chemical constituents and associated benefits of lemon myrtle are:

70-80%

Graph represents chemical compounds most prevalent in this essential oil. Additional constituents may be found.

RESEARCH:

13+

Published third-party studies on the benefits of Lemon Myrtle

FUN FACT

Indigenous Australians have long been using lemon myrtle in cuisine and for healing.

WORKS WELL WITH:

