

A vertical photograph of a lavender field. The foreground shows several lavender stalks with small purple flowers in sharp focus. The background is a vast field of similar flowers, blurred into a soft purple and pink bokeh. The lighting is warm, suggesting late afternoon or early morning, with a gentle glow across the scene.

dōTERRA[®]

Distribuidor Independiente