The Courage to Connect

In every season of growth, one quiet factor shapes how far we go — connection.

Not just surface-level moments, but meaningful connections — the kind that gently ask us to step out of our comfort zone.

Many of us, at some point, have felt it — the fear of rejection, the fear of judgment, the hesitation to be truly seen.

These fears are human. But they can also hold us back from the very thing that allows us to grow.

In spaces like Silver Club, success is not just about milestones or results. It is about the relationships we build along the way. Strong teams are not formed by strategy alone, but by trust — and trust begins with connection.

Connection isn't always easy. It may look like starting a conversation when you feel unsure, opening up about your journey, or simply showing up for someone else. These small, intentional acts are what bring teams closer and create a sense of belonging.

When we look back at moments like our Silver Club graduations, we see more than achievements — we see connection in its truest form. In the shared laughter, the encouragement, and the quiet support behind each milestone, something meaningful is built. It is in these moments that we witness the unity of dōTERRA Singapore growing stronger — as one dōTERRA.

And it begins with us. When we show up with openness, we make it easier for others to do the same — and that's how teams truly grow, side by side.

So I invite you to reflect:

*Where might fear be holding you back?
Who can you reach out to today?
And how can you create a space where others feel seen and valued?*

You don't need to have all the answers — only the courage to take the first step. As we look ahead to 2026, let us be more intentional in how we connect, support, and grow with one another.

*Let us choose courage.
Let us choose connection.
And together, let's build something that truly lasts.*

With belief in you,
Geraldine Toh
General Manager, dōTERRA Singapore

A Message from the Heart: Choosing to SHINE

As I look back on 2025, my heart overflows with gratitude. To our Wellness Advocates, customers, and employees: thank you. You are the heartbeat of dōTERRA Malaysia. Your unwavering dedication — whether in sharing essential oils or supporting Healing Hands projects like Dual Blessing and NCSM — proves that our influence extends far beyond a single bottle. Together, we are not just a company; we are a movement of compassion, bringing hope and healing to communities that need it most.

This year, our Southeast Asia Convention theme is SHINE, inspired by the vision of our Founding Executive, Emily Wright.

Shine Inward

As Emily reminded us, shining inward means remembering who you are — and whose you are. It is about loving ourselves enough to reconnect with our “Why.” True impact does not come from exhaustion, but from the strength and alignment found in our belief in natural wellness.

Shine Outward

From that inner light, we extend outward to bless our families, our communities, and the people we serve. This is not about selling — it is about loving. Through simple education and sincere sharing, every drop becomes a chance to illuminate someone else's journey.

Shine Together

Finally, we shine as one. As Emily beautifully expressed: “Alone, each light is beautiful. But together, we form constellations that guide the world.” When our actions align, we move from personal impact to collective transformation — igniting change that can illuminate entire nations.

As we move forward, let us carry this truth: When we choose to shine, the light multiplies. When we shine together, we can help the world heal — one drop, one person, one community at a time.

Warmest Regards,
Ethan Wang
General Manager, dōTERRA Malaysia

Thailand 2026: Focused on What Drives Success

At dōTERRA Thailand, our direction is clear, we are returning to what truly drives success. In today's fast-changing environment, simplicity and focus matter more than ever. That is why we are aligning our entire organization around our "3 Focuses to Success": Basic Work, Tools, and Expansion.

We begin with Basic Work. True growth does not come from complexity, but from consistency. Enrolling and building strong Loyalty Rewards Program (LRP) habits remain the foundation of every successful Wellness Advocate (WA) journey. At the same time, we are expanding our portfolio with a wider variety of products that better serve customer needs and are suitable for monthly consumption. This allows our WAs to build sustainable, repeat purchasing behavior while delivering real value to customers.

Next, we strengthen our Tools. Our commitment is to equip every WA with what they need to succeed and powerful products, impactful promotions, and simple, duplicable programs. With our enhanced compensation plan, we ensure that effort is recognized and rewarded in a meaningful way.

Finally, we accelerate Expansion. Leadership is not just about personal success—it is about multiplying others. Our focus is to help more leaders progress from "Be" to "Build" and ultimately "Multiply," with the Silver rank as a key milestone. The Silver Club plays a critical role in this journey. As a globally proven program within dōTERRA, it provides a clear system to build momentum, drive enrollments, and develop confident, capable leaders.

I truly believe that when we stay focused, disciplined, and united, we will unlock the next level of growth together while returning to our roots and moving forward with purpose to help the world heal and be a "FOREVER COMPANY".

Rooted in Nature, Empowering Communities: Ginseng from Changbai Mountain

Renowned as the "King of Herbs," ginseng from the Changbai Mountain region is prized for its exceptional quality, shaped by a pristine natural environment and generations of traditional knowledge. Grown over five to six years, this slow and careful cultivation allows the plant to develop its full potency, resulting in a premium botanical of remarkable value.

Beyond quality, ginseng cultivation plays a vital role in supporting local communities. By providing farmers with a higher-value crop, it offers improved income and sustainable livelihoods compared to conventional agriculture.

The process is both delicate and demanding — each harvest requires deep respect for nature, with land often needing decades to recover before it can be cultivated again. This highlights not only the rarity of ginseng, but also the commitment behind every harvest.

This reflects the spirit of Co-Impact Sourcing — where responsible sourcing goes hand in hand with community empowerment. From the mountains of Changbai to homes around the world, ginseng represents more than wellness — it is a story of purpose, people, and positive impact.

Thailand Healing Hands Story:

"One Drop, One Heart, One Life"

Celebrating 3 Years of Peppermint Healing Hands, Healing Heart

At dōTERRA Thailand, we believe that true wellness goes beyond individuals, it extends to communities. Since our establishment in Thailand in 2021, the Healing Hands Project has been a key initiative in creating meaningful and lasting social impact because at our core, we help the world heal.

In our first year, we donated approximately THB 1.2 million (USD ~36,000) to support the purchase of essential medical devices for children in need. Building on this commitment, we launched the Peppermint Healing Hands, Healing Heart initiative in 2023, inviting our community to be part of giving in a simple yet powerful way. For every purchase of Peppermint Essential Oil (15 ml), THB 30 (USD~1) is contributed to the Children's Hospital Foundation.

Through this initiative, we have donated over THB 400,000 (USD ~12,000) to date and have supported more than 100 pediatric patients each year, helping provide access to critical medical care and treatment. What may seem like a small contribution becomes a powerful force when combined across our Wellness Advocates and customers nationwide.

Healing Hands represents more than a donation, it reflects compassion, unity, and the spirit of giving that defines dōTERRA. As we look ahead, we remain committed to continuing this initiative into 2026 and beyond, expanding its impact and reaching even more children and families in need.

The more you share, the more you uplift lives from the other side of the bottle. Together, we help the world heal with one drop, one heart, one community at a time.

Rise: dōTERRA Singapore Celebrates 10 Years

In 2025, dōTERRA Singapore marked a major milestone – 10 incredible years – with a vibrant anniversary celebration themed Rise. It was a day filled with energy, gratitude, and momentum as the community came together to honour how far we've come and where we're heading next.

Before the main stage event began, attendees were welcomed into Wellness Wonderland – an experiential showcase designed to bring the dōTERRA lifestyle to life.

This interactive space allowed guests to explore and experience new and existing products firsthand, engage with wellness education, and gain deeper insight into our new products. It set the tone for the day: immersive, engaging, and rooted in education and discovery.

Rise kicked off with a high-energy drum performance featuring our Blue Diamonds, Diamonds, and professional performers on stage. The rhythm, unity, and presence brought the room alive – symbolising a decade of rising together as one community.

A heartfelt highlight of the celebration came through a surprise segment featuring birthday wishes from dōTERRA Founders and executive leaders.

Their messages of appreciation and encouragement honored the Singapore community's 10-year journey, acknowledging the dedication, impact, and commitment of leaders and members alike. The surprise brought a warm and emotional moment to the celebration, reinforcing the sense of global connection within the dōTERRA family.

A major highlight of Rise was the introduction of new innovations that strengthen our foundational wellness journey – VMG+, EO Mega, and PB Assist Stick, designed to support daily core health, alongside the exciting Frankincense line expansion with Frankincense Boswellic Complex and Frankincense Stick, bringing even more depth to our wellness offerings.

We were honoured to host amazing leaders from around the world:

- Elena Yordan (Blue Diamond, US)
- Lee He Rong (Presidential Diamond, MY)
- Lee Pei Xuan (Blue Diamond, MY)
- Steven Hsiung (Triple Diamond)

Their presence brought inspiration, experience, and celebration energy to the stage.

Rise was more than an anniversary – it was a celebration of community, growth, and belief. Ten years behind us, and an even brighter future ahead.

We don't just celebrate milestones – we rise from them.

Wellness Made Simple: Turning Everyday Habits into Lasting Change

In 2025, dōTERRA Malaysia hosted three Wellness Made Simple workshop sessions, each designed as a two-day experience bringing people together to learn, share, and grow.

The workshops focused on helping participants better understand their bodies through simple health insights and body data awareness. With this foundation, they gained clarity on what their bodies truly need and how to make better daily choices.

Nutrition was introduced in a practical way, making it easier to build habits that fit into everyday life. Participants also learned how to incorporate dōTERRA wellness products and essential oils into their routines.

A key highlight was the opportunity to connect closely with speakers, whose real experiences made the sessions more engaging and relatable. The workshops also celebrated leaders for their progress in both wellness and business, creating a strong sense of encouragement within the community.

More than a workshop, it was a starting point — where small steps lead to lasting change.

A defining highlight was the visit to the Ginger & Cassia distillery in Hanoi, where leaders experienced Co-Impact Sourcing® firsthand. From witnessing the meticulous distillation process to understanding the effort behind every drop — up to 1,000 kg of ginger for just 2-3 litres of oil — the experience offered a deeper appreciation of purity, sustainability, and the people behind it.

Beyond the experiences, the summit created valuable space for leaders to connect, exchange ideas, and engage with the corporate team — strengthening relationships and shaping the path forward together.

More than a destination, it was a journey of purpose — where leadership grows, and impact begins.

New Presidential Diamond - Dr. Phartchai Rueansit

Success Begins with a Decision Not Perfect Timing

From Seeing Opportunity in Uncertain Times to Helping Others Grow Along the Way. If someone asked me which day changed my life the most, my answer would not be the day I achieved the rank of Presidential Diamond. It would be the day I decided to start with doTERRA.

Back in the year 2021, the world was facing one of the most challenging periods in recent history. The COVID-19 pandemic had created uncertainty in nearly every aspect of life. While many people chose to wait for things to become clearer, I spent that time studying this business seriously. The more I learned, the more I realized that what doTERRA was building was far more than a product business or an income opportunity. It was about helping people improve their lives, discover their potential, and create new possibilities for themselves and their families. At that time, doTERRA had not yet officially launched in Thailand. Enrolling members, ordering products, and building a business all came with challenges and limitations. Many people chose to wait until everything was fully established. But I believe that if you truly see the future potential of something, starting early can become an advantage. So, I made the decision to begin.

I didn't start when everything was ready. I started when I saw an opportunity, and that decision changed my life forever.

As time passed, my belief only grew stronger. I witnessed people improving their health, families creating additional income, and ordinary individuals discovering strengths they never knew they had. Many of them grew into confident leaders capable of guiding and supporting their own teams. That became the reason I continued moving forward.

When I set my goal to achieve Presidential Diamond, I never viewed it as a title to pursue. My focus was simply on helping my team grow stronger and creating a stable foundation for long-term success. I believed that if we focused on developing people, the rank would naturally follow.

The qualification journey was one of the most demanding seasons of my career. I worked closely with my team almost every day – traveling, planning, solving challenges, and building together. There were months without real breaks. Of course, there were days when I felt exhausted and discouraged. But every time I saw my team continue to push forward, every time I saw people refusing to give up on their goals, I found a reason to keep going as well. My motivation was never the title at the end of the journey. It was seeing people discover their potential, develop into leaders, and build a stronger future for themselves and the people they love.

When I achieved Presidential Diamond, I didn't immediately think about the title. My mind went back to the people who had walked this journey alongside me – the leaders who never stopped believing, the team members who continued showing up every day, and the shared commitment that carried us through every challenge along the way.

That was when I realized that this achievement meant far more than a rank.

It represented trust. It represented teamwork. And it represented the growth of many people who had walked this journey together. I know this achievement was never mine alone. It was built through the belief, commitment, and determination of an incredible team.

For me, Presidential Diamond is not the end of the journey. There is still so much more to do, so many leaders are still growing, and so many people are looking for an opportunity to create something better for themselves and their families. Today, I may have reached the rank of Presidential Diamond, but what means the most to me is not the title. It is seeing the people who started this journey with me become stronger, more confident, and successful in their own way.

When I look back, that is what I am most proud of. Because true success is not measured by how high we climb, but by how many people we help rise with us.

New Diamond -
Annie Ooi &
Tang Po Lee

In the early days of this journey, I didn't set out to build a career out of dōTERRA. I was simply using essential oils for myself and family members, merely sharing their benefits with loved ones around me. But when I witnessed the tremendous benefits of dōTERRA essential oils, I realised the deep connections arising from the usage and became very certain that this is what I had always yearned for after watching the transformations from the usage. At this point, I have absolutely no doubt that this was a journey worth taking — and one worth staying on for all time. I then decided that this is it and followed my heart.

I decided to step out of my small comfortable world to embrace others and create new possibilities. I see a different version of myself — one that is empowered and luminous. And it all starts with a sincere, beautiful moment of giving coupled with lots of love.

I will never rush into making a hard sale. Instead, with lots of patience I continued my practice of giving out sample oils, offering companionship, and hosting free workshops. My goal is simply to make people feel cared for but this approach doesn't yield instant results; for a while, my contact list stayed stagnant and the numbers didn't move. I felt deeply discouraged and lost.

In those shadows, I doubted myself questioning that I'm not enough or maybe I don't belong to the essential oil world. During those tough times, my family, especially my husband, was my true anchor. They would encourage me and assured me that what I am doing is right. In their words 'Just do what you know how to do. Just take care of people.' That shifted everything.

When I stopped trying to be "impressive" and started focusing on being "true" for people, my power returned. Now, when I feel stuck, I slow down. I use my essential oils, I rest, and I return to my roots of faith and love. When the heart is steady, the world's storms feel small. Doubt isn't a sign to stop; it's just the growing pains of a soul in progress.

From the Power of Giving to the Beacon of Success:

A Life Transformed

My journey with dōTERRA did not begin with financial ambition, but with a heart yearning to care for the ones I love. At a time when my father was facing challenging health conditions and reliant on numerous chemical products, I desperately sought natural alternatives to support his well-being. Around the same time, my best friend was looking for a way to comfort her sensitive skin. That was when I discovered dōTERRA. The results of introducing these products to my father and friend were nothing short of amazing; within just a few weeks, their overall well-being improved incredibly. That profound turning point compelled me to dive deep into understanding dōTERRA.

What truly unlocked my conviction in essential oils was their unrivaled purity, high efficacy, and the CPTG certification a gold standard that sets dōTERRA worlds apart from any other brand. Captivated by this absolute purity, I naturally began sharing it. Initially met with skepticism and misunderstanding, the narrative shifted the moment they experienced it firsthand. The essential oils worked beautifully to enhance their wellness, leaving everyone astonished and transforming them into lifelong users.

I fell in love with sharing so deeply that I realized this wasn't just a career; it was my true calling. In my 20 years of professional experience, I have never encountered a culture as beautiful as dōTERRA. It transcends commercial sales; it is a culture of genuine giving, elevating lives, and offering opportunities with a pure heart. This profound environment has unconsciously expanded and enriched my own soul.

dōTERRA products do not merely nurture the physical body; they comfort the mind and resonate deep within the spirit. Through this business, I have grown immensely gaining profound product expertise, mastering an exceptional compensation plan, and building a high-performing professional team.

I am just an ordinary woman, the sole pillar of my family. When the COVID-19 crisis struck and crumbled our financial stability, finding dōTERRA felt like a guiding light. It became our vehicle through difficult times. Starting from humble steps, I committed myself to mastering dōTERRA systems and tools and began cultivating my team. dōTERRA acts as an elite academy, providing a world-class business pathway with a crystal-clear trajectory for growth.

Today, my faith is absolutely in the company, the products, the business plan, my team, and ultimately in myself. I fiercely believe that through dōTERRA, we possess the power to touch lives and change the world. This is a company complete in every dimension, offering not only limitless abundance and prosperity, but also fulfilling the hearts of those who dare to transform the world together.

Finding Balance: My Journey with Yoga & dōTERRA

“Wellness is not achieved overnight — it is a daily practice.”

For over 23 years, yoga has been at the center of my life. What began as a passion became my purpose — helping people understand their bodies and live in balance. My commitment to health was shaped early on by watching my parents struggle with chronic conditions like high blood pressure, blood sugar, and cholesterol. It reminded me that health should never be taken for granted.

I chose prevention through consistent practice, mindful living, and self-care — not just for myself, but for those I guide.

About 12 years ago, I was introduced to dōTERRA. Already a believer in natural wellness, I was deeply inspired by how essential oils supported emotional balance and relaxation. Over time, they became part of my daily routine — helping me reset mentally and physically.

Later, I experienced the benefits of dōTERRA’s wellness supplements. As a yoga instructor with an active lifestyle, I noticed improved energy, recovery, and overall vitality. It wasn’t about quick results, but consistent support. That was when I knew this was something worth sharing.

I began introducing these tools to my students and saw meaningful changes — not just physically, but emotionally. When stress reduces, the body opens, and practice deepens. Yoga evolved into a more holistic wellness experience.

Of course, the journey came with challenges. Moving beyond teaching into sharing and building a business required courage. There were doubts, but I stayed grounded in authenticity. I shared honestly from my own experience, and over time, I learned that people value sincerity over perfection.

Through this journey, I discovered that true wellness is multi-dimensional — combining movement, nutrition, rest, and emotional care. Yoga provided the foundation, while essential oils and supplements completed the picture.

Today, my mission goes beyond teaching yoga. It is about guiding people toward balance — helping them reconnect with their bodies and take meaningful steps toward better health.

Looking back, I am grateful for every part of the journey. Because true transformation begins with a choice: to live well, to share sincerely, and to help others find their balance — before it’s too late.

How dōTERRA Helped Me Reclaim Time, Family, and Purpose

For many years, my life revolved around responsibility. After separating from my husband when my daughter was only three years old, I became a single mother and the sole provider for my family. Like many parents, I believed that working harder was the best way to create a better future for my child. Because of work, I had to leave my daughter in the care of my older sister. My days were filled with work, deadlines, and responsibilities. Before I knew it, years had passed, and I had missed many of the moments that mattered most. As my daughter entered her teenage years, I began to realize something important: career success could never replace the time I had lost with her. More than anything, I wanted to be present in her life—not just as someone who provided for her, but as someone she could talk to, trust, and turn to when she needed guidance.

At the time, I was working as a factory executive, managing large teams and significant responsibilities. While my career was successful, it came at the cost of my health and personal time. Hoping to create a better balance, I eventually started my own beauty salon and spa business. Things were going well until the COVID-19 pandemic changed everything. That challenging season forced me to pause and reflect on what truly mattered. I began searching for something that could create meaningful value for people while giving me more time with my family.

During that journey, I was introduced to dōTERRA through Dr. Nammonthian and later had the opportunity to learn the business from Yarika and Thadasak. Their guidance, encouragement, and example of leading with a heart of service inspired me deeply. What truly drew me to dōTERRA wasn't the business opportunity alone. It was the difference I experienced in my own life. As I continued using the products, I noticed positive changes in my overall well-being and quality of life. Those experiences inspired me to learn more and share what I had discovered with others.

Over the past two years and ten months, dōTERRA has taught me that success is about much more than rank or income. The greatest reward comes from seeing people regain hope, improve their quality of life, and discover strengths they never knew they had. Many people begin their journey simply looking for solutions for themselves and their families. With support, encouragement, and mentorship, they often grow into leaders who inspire and uplift others in meaningful ways. Reaching the rank of Diamond is something I am truly grateful for. However, it is not what I value most. The greatest gift dōTERRA has given me is time, the opportunity to be present for my daughter while helping others create healthier, happier, and more fulfilling lives. I believe that leadership begins with seeing potential in others before they can see it in themselves. When we choose to support one another and grow together, incredible things can happen.

Today, my mission is simple: to continue sharing the value of dōTERRA and help more people discover greater well-being, opportunity, freedom, and purpose in their own lives. I believe one drop of dōTERRA can change one life. And when one life is transformed, that impact can extend to families, communities, and countless others.

*One Drop. One Person.
One Community.*

From Stability to Significance: Redefining Success Beyond a Career

For more than 20 years, I lived a life that many would call stable and successful. As a registered pharmacist, I built my career from practice into corporate pharmacy management. I had a steady income, a clear direction, and professional recognition. Everything looked secure. But deep inside, I knew I was constantly trading time for that stability, especially time with my family.

In 2015, something shifted.

My youngest son had a weak immune system during his kindergarten years. He was often unwell, and as both a pharmacist and a mother, I felt torn. I understood medicine, but I also longed for something gentler and more natural to support his health. That was when I was introduced to essential oils.

I still remember the first time I used them. The change I saw may have seemed small to others, but to me, it meant everything. It gave me confidence, the confidence that I had found a safe and effective way to care for my family.

For the next few years, I simply used the oils. But in 2019, I attended a conference that changed my perspective. What I saw was more than products, it was a different way of living. A life with flexibility, purpose, and the ability to truly be present for my family. That vision stayed with me, and I knew I wanted more than just to use the oils. I wanted to share them.

The journey, however, was not easy.

My biggest challenge was myself. I was comfortable, and my network was limited. Stepping out meant facing rejection and doing things I had never done before. But instead of staying stuck, I chose to grow. I started attending networking events, becoming active in the community, reaching out through social media, and conducting workshops. Slowly, my confidence grew, and so did my connections.

In this business, I believe in simplicity. I follow the PIPES system, they are prospecting, inviting, presenting, enrolling, and supporting. There are no shortcuts, only consistent action. Over time, practice truly became progress.

Today, the greatest reward is not just business growth, but life transformation. I have more quality time with my family and can be present as my children grow. Along this journey, I have also grown as a person, becoming more confident, stronger resilience and better communication with people. More importantly, it has given me a deeper sense of purpose, to care, to share, and to uplift others in a meaningful way.

This journey is no longer just about essential oils. It is about purpose, growth, and creating a life that truly matters.
